Winners are grinners at Community Fair

The fun and festivities of this year's Kalgoorlie-Boulder Community Fair put a smile on the faces of most of the kids in town, and also left a group of 'big kids' smiling too, with two stand holders walking away with awards for their exhibitions.

The 'Bangle' stall, which sold assorted jewellery, purses and other small gifts, was awarded the best outdoor exhibition, and the award for the best indoor exhibition was given to KCGM for their interactive stall which offered information, activities for adults and kids, and a range of giveaways.

Fair Secretary Ben Sowden was pleased with this year's winners, which are nominated by an independent and anonymous judge.

"Both exhibition winners were most deserving, and their organisers' were very excited when they were told they had won," Ben said.

"The Bangle stall has been a part of the Fair for over 15 years, and consistently offers goods that appeal to a wide range of the Fair's audience," he said.

"The KCGM exhibition was a great attraction for the kids, and also offered a lot of interesting information for kids and adults alike."

KCGM Community Relations Officer Jess Ciantar was grateful for the award.

"The Fair is a fantastic community event, which we love being a part of and supporting," Jess said.

"It was great to stand back and see a bunch of kids having a good time, dressing up as miners, sifting for gold, and diving into the enormous truck tyre for lollies, all while mum's and dad's made the most of the DVD, various displays and chatting with our Human Resource representatives," she said.

"Just seeing that our stall was enjoyable for everyone was thanks enough, so to top it off with an award was a pleasant surprise!

"Of course we couldn't have pulled it together without the assistance of our awesome staff volunteers who helped run the stand."

The fun, excitement, and for some, the hard work, was capped off on Saturday night, with the KCGM fireworks, which lit up the sky over Kalgoorlie-Boulder for all to enjoy.
